Rick,

Thanks for the detailed responses in the QM Amendment Form.

Took me awhile to review your detailed amendment submission and look back to your excellent course.

In my professional opinion, your course presents the model for non-traditional online learning; and the course map you created is excellent in its detail and thoroughness.

It has been a pleasure reviewing your course and interacting with a professional such as yourself that puts the student learner first and foremost in their teaching.

Congratulations on achieving the QM certification for your superb Business Analytics course, I wish that my MBA Business Analytics professor had been as thorough as you are in teaching the importance and utility of business analytics; and as a result had to learn business analytics through trail and tribulations.

Hope you plan on having any other courses that you teach QM certified; I have had all seven of the primary course I teach certified and each certification was a learning experience and led to additional course improvements from a student-learners perspective which we instructors sometimes fail to observe in our course development.

Best wishes,

Cal
